2 April, 2012.

To whom it may concern,

I hereby support Dr Richmond Loh's intent to acquire higher-level skills and an appreciation of international best practice through his application for a George Alexander International Foundation Fellowship to support his training overseas in the area of aquatic animal health.

Dr Loh became a valuable member of the Australian and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists through examination in 2006 in Medicine and Management of Aquaculture Species; and in 2009 in Veterinary Pathology (including Clinical and Anatomical Pathology).

He is an active member of the following College Chapters: Animal Reproduction; Aquatic Animal Health; Animal Welfare; Anaesthetic, Emergency and Critical Care; and pathobiology.

I am aware that the need exists to train fish health professionals in Australia yet there is limited availability of advanced fish health training opportunities in Australia. Advanced training overseas is available to Dr Loh and I understand he seeks the support of a George Alexander International Foundation Fellowship to assist him to access this training, to allow him to continue to make an ongoing high-level contribution to the aquaculture industry in Australia and New Zealand.

Yours sincerely

Megan G. Parker
Chief Executive Officer
