

life

PRESENTERS:

Dr Brian Mc Erlean and others

OneLife has been a WA Government sponsored initiative run through AVA to reduce suicide rates in vets and finishes in December 2013.

It is important for all vets to understand the factors contributing to good mental health and that good support structures are vital for humans to function optimally.

Euthanasia of animals can be a very stressful part of a veterinarian's job. This forum is to help provide information about how to reduce that stress with presentations from experienced veterinarians and a veterinary nurse. Consideration will also be given to dealing with owners grief and the issue of compassion fatigue. It will conclude with an open forum to consider the need to develop resources.

Onelife Presentation at Murdoch University Veterinary College

Thursday 12th December 2013

4th year lecture theatre at Murdoch
University Veterinary College

Topic

Euthanasia, Grief and Loss Counselling and Compassion Fatigue

4.30 pm Presentation

5.30 pm Sundowner/TGIF

Cost FREE

Please RSVP by Tues 10th December for catering purposes to s.gillett@murdoch.edu.au

Sponsored by Onelife